CEO message

At the change of the year we like to look back at 2010 and look forward to the new year.

2010 Was an important year for the industry and therefore for Esteves Group as well.

Nobody knew if and how the market would recover after the financial crisis in 2009, which reduced orders to the lowest levels for many years.

And there was the recovery practically at the start of 2010 and it was showing a rapid increase in demand, putting pressure on reduced production capacities.

Now we are confident that we are back in balance and more than capable of restoring our service to the market, which we expect showing a healthy growth in 2011.

At the same time we have taken advantage investing in people and equipment in the Esteves Special Tools activities and so increasing our capability in extrusion tools, shaped dies, compacting and stranding dies.

Esteves Group is close to you in all parts of the world with production, repair capabilities and technical support to give you the service level you need in order to optimize your process.

We wish you a healthy and prosperous New Year.
